D.C. Freeway Beauty Foreseen

By JOHN HORGAN

"THE JUNIPERO Serra Freeway will be the most beautiful freeway in California — if not in the United States," a State Division of Highway official told a luncheon meeting of the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce Thursday in the Friar

Room of Serra Bowl. Haig Ayanian, deputy engineer in charge of division operations for the Bay Area, said there was a growing awareness on the part of the state to make California highways more aesthetic. (See Pacific Parade, Pg. 10) He remarked that landscaping of the Daly City segment of the Junipero Serra Freeway should begin shortly after the segment is completed.

"We feel that if a person can drive down a freeway and not find anything ugly, then that freeway is acceptable to the eye," he stated.

HOWEVER, aesthetically beautiful roads cost more money, Ayanian noted, and he estimated that the extra costs of this factor in the Junipero Serra Freeway may run as high as 10 percent of the total project cost.

The Junipero Serra freeway will have to be completed by 1971 if we are to receive the allotted federal monies," he continued. "Right now, two-thirds of the state's work is on the interstate system and this limits our work in other areas. But, we have to get money while the getting is good."

$3-Million Issue Will Be Decided

By BERENICE PALMER

A $3 million dollar bond issue was authorized by trustees of Jefferson Elementary School District Monday night.

The bond issue will be submitted to voters within 75 to 90 days. Proceeds would be used to build a new seventh and eighth grade school.

District Supt. Frank Greenwood said that the date of the bond election would be co-ordinated with plans of the Jefferson High School District, which also is considering an election.

In justifying the $3-million figure, Greenwood stated:

"I would rather oversell a bond issue than sell it short."

He described the issue as a "nice, round figure on which we may still be off."

He said the difference between the originally proposed $2.8-million figure and the present $3-million figure could save a year of construction.

Board Chairman Thomas Noonan agreed that a bond issue every several years would be a "very expensive item," and said that the proposed issue should cover the longest period possible.

The bond issue, he said, is necessary if the district is to stay eligible for the state loan program.

The district administration estimates that the issue will carry the district until 1970.

In answer to the question, "What happens if we unify?" Greenwood replied that the unsold portion of the bond issue would be cancelled.

Trustees discussed at length the most favorable time for the bond election. A pre-Christmas date was suggested.

Trustee O. Wayne Douglas said that the date should not be around tax bill time because then residents would be confused or annoyed and might feel

Fairmont West Hearing to Open

A public hearing on the proposed Fairmont West development and the Pacific Ocean, north of Pacific Manor Shopping Center. The land formerly was owned by Globe Wireless.

Three requests will be discussed at tonight's meeting. William Jepson of 404 Manor Drive is asking approval for the installation of a chain link fence at Cragmont Court in Manor Drive.

Jepson contends that houses and pedestrians in this area are endangered by automobiles rounding a curve.

He is seeking city maintenance of a center strip.

A letter from a homeowners' group in Sharp Park requests clarification of use of a lot owned by the Dahlberg Brothers that lies between Dahlberg's mobile home development and homeowners' houses.

This lot had been formerly designated as a "buffer zone" and the Dahlbergs are now grading it for construction.

The Pupil Housing Plan Committee of the Laguna Salada School District is seeking a walkway for pupils and crossing guards in the Fairmont Area. The committee, in a letter to the Council, termed a need for the walkway and guards "critical."

D.C. Youth Drowns Off Ocean Beach

A 13-year-old Daly City boy apparently drowned in the surf off Ocean Beach in San Francisco Sunday afternoon when he was knocked from his raft and tried to swim through breakers about 150 feet from shore.

John Conklin of 683 Hanover Street, his brother, George, 11, and three other boys had ridden their bicycles to the beach. Each carried air mattresses.

The boys were playing near the beach, witnesses said, when John went out farther than the others.

When the other youths last saw John, he was off his raft and struggling to get to the beach.

Rezoning Moratorium for Daly City Area Extended

A moratorium on all rezoning requests for a large area of Daly City has been extended for another six months by the Planning Commission until the city completes an overall study of the region.

The area is bounded by Mission Street, Junipero Serra Boulevard, Jefferson High School and the San Francisco boundary line.

The region includes 155 homes that will be removed to make way for construction of a Bay Area Rapid Transit District station near the future interchange of the Knowles-Los Banos Expressway and the Southern and Junipero Serra Freeways.

Commissioners directed at a meeting last week that any future applicants making rezon-

State Sees Agency for Lakes Area

State officials last week predicted a future super-agency would direct uses of San Mateo County's chain of Crystal Springs lakes. The prediction was made at public hearings of the Assembly Interim Committee on Conservation and Wild Life.

Frank Stead, chief of the Division of Environmental Sanitation of the state's Department of Public Health, hinted at the possibility of a super-agency by saying that all the people involved in using the water system should participate in making decisions as to its uses.

The super-agency, a multi-county assessment or improvement district, might be only one of several in the state and would provide financing for other-than-water facilities as well as control of recreational and water operations, he noted.

Stead outlined steps that would lead to such an agency last week in San Francisco during the closing session of the hearing of the Assembly Committee on Conservation and Wild Life.

David Friedenberg, president of the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce and a resident of South San Francisco, told the committee:

"To have this tremendous facility go unused for recreation is a great waste."

He urged the committee to suggest that public officials of San Francisco come up with a plan for opening the watershed to greater recreational use and to suggest that San Mateo County officials do whatever they can to further this plan.

Oops! Our Alphabet Was Showing

Our alphabet, it appears, was showing last week—in large type to boot.

In a front page story, The Post-Times incorrectly reported that the Pacific City Council would continue to call the roll of councilmen on an alphabetical basis, A to Z.

The council actually voted 3-2 in favor of reversing the alphabet—at least until January.

Mayor James Fox said at that time he will introduce a motion, asking that the roll be called alphabetically in alternate months.

Beauty of D.C. Road Is Foreseen

(Continued From Page 1) of the Junipero Serra Freeway now under construction is scheduled to be finished in August of 1966. The portion, which extends from the San Francisco-Daly City border to Eastmore Avenue, will be a 10-lane freeway.

While there are still a number of traffic bottlenecks on the project at the present time, Ayanian said, he stressed that his department has done its utmost to provide the motorist with obstruction-free detours during the construction of the new two-and-one-half mile section of road.

"Traffic is always a problem for us and we have a variety of choices," he explained.

"With every case, we make an effort to put traffic through the construction area with a minimum of inconvenience. Other states just turn the motorist loose. We are sympathetic with the automobile driver."

AYANIAN HAD some more good news for chamber members when he disclosed that the 8-turn on the Alameda Boulevard detour will be eliminated within four weeks.

He also stated that re-routed Junipero Serra Boulevard will serve the same businesses and residential areas as the old road did.

One annoyance for Westlake motorists will not be alleviated, he disclosed. The new freeway setup will keep the present stoplight at Alameda and Junipero Serra Boulevards for drivers heading for San Francisco.

Daly City Councilman Bernard Lycett praised the speaker for the work done by his (Ayanian's) department in making a difficult job of rerouting traffic through the construction site largely trouble-free.

UNEVENTFUL MEET S.S.F. Councilmen Set a Fast Pace

South San Francisco City Council cantered through its business Monday with its usual speed, having no protests or public hearings to slow an otherwise fast track.

The pace was set early in the session by approval of four routine claims for payment on work done in the Cabot, Cabot & Forbes Industrial Park, two for work done on the new city library, one on the Butler Road Assessment District, and one for the city parking district.

September 27 to October 2 was set as Armour Company Week, in honor of one of the city's oldest business firms and October was set as the annual Clean up, Paint up, Fix-up Month.

An agreement authorizing Utah Construction Company to dredge in the San Bruno Shoals was approved, and a resolution granting a grading permit to Healy Tibbitts Construction Company was deleted from the agenda because prior action had already taken care of the matter.

By mid-way around the track the Council had accepted a public utility easement from the White Front store, and another at the Guy F. Atkinson Company, and approved a resolution of intent to form a maintenance district in West Park.

The council adopted a new fire district and fire zone ordinance, and approved one requiring soil sampling in subdivisions.

South San Francisco's Boys Club was granted approval for its annual "Festival" October 1 to 3, and the Council moved out of the back stretch by agreeing to seven items recommended by the Planning Commission.

"This is not just a frivolous item," he pleaded. "We cut down one and a half per cent on our salary schedule so that we could have this."

Board Chairman Thomas Noonan said that he did not feel the board should approve the request. He added that teachers probably had lunch hour duty only once a month. At this point, several teachers rose and complained about their noon hour responsibilities and described how they could make better use of their time.

Mrs. June Neuhaus, a P-TA representative, said she felt the hired supervisors should at least have first aid training.

It was suggested by several trustees that the principals act in a supervisory capacity to the lay supervisors. Several principals, however, dissented saying they could not be tied to a noon schedule as they needed the flexibility for other responsibilities.

Most teachers agreed with a comment by Greenwood that it was "very rare when a teacher didn't have a week without some lunch hour duty."

Action on the hiring of additional nighttime supervisors was deferred until the board's next meeting.

John was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Conklin.

JUHS Mulls Revision of Student Code

By LOUANNE HEATH

The Jefferson High School District Board of Trustees, administrators from the district's four high schools and representatives from teacher organizations met to review and discuss possible revisions to a code regulating student behavior during a special meeting Monday evening.

During a two-hour session, opened by a general review of the booklet, Standard of Student Behavior, by District Superintendent Edward D. Morgan, trustees, administrators and teachers exchanged information and inquiries designed to determine the practicability and effectiveness of the code.

Board President Elio Fontana said yesterday the board was generally impressed with the code and the manner in which it is applied by principals.

"I felt we were all in agreement that it is a basically good code. We reviewed the materials submitted to us by various other districts and found that, while they did not formally indicate that they used our code as a guide, some of them were almost word for word copies of ours," Fontana said.

Moratorium On Rezoning Is Extended

A petition by The Ladies' Home Club represented by William Lagomarsino of 7100 Mission Street, to rezone its lot at 23 Werner Avenue from R-1 to R-3 (single-family dwelling to multiple dwelling) was considered.

After considerable discussion it was felt that a legal opinion from the city attorney was needed regarding the fulfillment of requirements governing submission of building and elevation plans.

The petition will be held over until the commission's next meeting to obtain the city attorney's opinion.

A petition filed by Primo Repetto of 321 Columbus Avenue in San Francisco to rezone lots in the Blaine, Dearing, and Samuels Tract, located south of Velasco Avenue between Oriente and Schwerin Streets was considered.

Repetto's plans call for duplexes to be built on that site. He said he will submit tentative plans to the commission prior to its next meeting.

An application for a use permit from Serramonte Realty Company of San Francisco to install four subdivision signs along the northerly side of King Drive from Skyline Boulevard to Callan Boulevard was approved. There was no opposition to the application.

JESD Calls for A Bond Election

Trustees asked the administration to investigate calling an election as soon as possible.

Action on an employee medical plan was again deferred—this time over the protests of many in the audience, some of whom represented the Jefferson Classroom Teachers' Association.

Trustee Joseph Lewkowitz complained that, "we are making a career out of it." The board, however, agreed to wait until comparison data had been received from the district's present medical insurance carrier.

In other business the board: Hired three substitute teachers to perform vision screening.

Approved the continuance of an education program for the mentally retarded.

Authorized James R. Thompson to attend the California State Conference on Education Research.

Adopted physical fitness and performance test guides.

Approved an in-service course in the new math for seventh and eighth grade math teachers.

Although there were 19 items on the agenda, a new streamlined procedure was inaugurated by Greenwood for the meeting.

Nine items were starred which were considered routine, and these were recommended for passage by a covering motion.

Hearing on Subdivision Is Planned

Weed abatement on private property; a uniform plumbing code; a building moving ordinance; high rise fire apparatus; an amendment to the joint use agreement of recreational school grounds between the Park, Beach and Recreation Commission and the Laguna Salada School District.

A public dance ordinance, which was originally proposed in April of 1963, will be presented tonight with a recommendation for approval from Police Chief Neil Tremaine.

The ordinance would require a police permit for all public dances in Pacifica.

D.C. Lions Club Seeks Donations

OCTOBER 1 AND 2 have been declared "Lions Club White Cane Days" by Daly City Mayor Francis Pacelli.

White Cane Days, sponsored by the Daly City-Colma Lions Club in co-operation with 800 other Lions Clubs in California and Nevada, will raise funds for the local club's blind and sight care work.

Ed Byrne has been appointed chairman of the Daly City drive, according to Lions president Rino Ceccata.

Concern for the blind is one of the basic objectives of Lions International, Lions members point out. The project has raised more than $2-million in less than 15 years.

"The important fact is that through Lions Clubs' efforts, many individuals hold their heads erect and live a fuller life because of the dimes and dollars that have pyramided into a myriad of good things which never could have been if Lions had not led their communities in the White Cane Days Parade of assistance," said Byrne.

THE CLUB'S sight conservation projects have contributed $4,888 in the past year to a variety of activities.

Under the category of youth and welfare, the club has donated $3,540 during the past year. The contributions fall into a number of categories.

GROUP COMMENDED

Laguna Meeting Results Mailed

Results of a district administrative meeting on housing last Wednesday have been sent to all parents of children in the Laguna Salada School District. Superintendent Frederick Lucas commended the district's housing committee and newspaper, for their efforts in pupil housing.

He said that the letter to parents described the problems involved in predicting actual enrollment.

High population turnover during the summer and growth in home sales and subdivision make projection of enrollment figures difficult, the letter pointed out.

The letter to parents also explained why some changes in teacher and pupil assignment could not be avoided. Teachers with small classes were released for re-assignment.

Children in crowded classes were transferred to other schools with vacant space.

This was made necessary by a state requirement that no class may exceed 33 pupils in grades one to three. Grades four to eight have more leeway in that they only have to average 33 pupils.

New assignments of teachers and pupils were given by school principals Friday to end confusion Monday morning.

Superintendent Lucas said he was pleased to report that grades one to eight can be single-sessioned.

He said consultants from Stanford University are now putting results of a pupil housing survey through computers and it is hoped that the results will help guide the district in providing more accurate pupil enrollment projections.

Friendly Action Is Urged

Superintendent Frederick Lucas expressed concern about the acquisition of a site for the proposed Great School at a meeting of the Laguna Salada School District last week. The site, at the end of Passler Avenue in Linda Mar, is owned by Kenneth Royce.

A resolution was approved at the meeting recommending that friendly proceedings of eminent domain be commenced to acquire this site. "If that school is not completed by September of 1966," said Lucas, "we will be in a jam."

Firms Enter Drilling Bids For Sewers

Three drilling companies submitted sealed bids to the North San Mateo County Sanitation District board of directors Monday for operations on sewerage improvements in the Westlake area.

Robert Garcia Drilling Company of Mountain View, Baldwin-Wallace Inc. of San Francisco, and Maguire and Hester of Oakland were the three firms. The bids, all under $43,000, will be referred to the district's engineer-manager and attorney.

The board also allocated $1,500 for work on Crestline Drive, an area where a sewer alarm system is to be installed. The district authorized the Pacific Telephone Company to take charge of the drilling and installation of a conduit system.

Pacifican Is Chosen for Drive Post

Officials of the San Mateo County Dollars for Democrats Drive have named a Pacifica woman to head the drive in the Daly City area.

Mrs. Molly Weintraub of 650 Hickey Boulevard, Pacifica, has been named chairman by John Zapian, president of the Daly City-Colma Democratic Club.

Mrs. Weintraub, precinct chairman for the club, recently moved to the Pacifica address after a long residence in San Carlos.

THERE'S ONE in every readership. An expert. Someone who knows more about what you're writing about than you do.

We have one. His name is Jack Riskin and every reader of this column should be glad there are Riskins in the world because they keep us columnists honest and accurate and hardworking and readers benefit by being reasonably sure that they're getting the straight poop.

Our Mr. Riskin teaches junior high school in San Francisco because he and his wife, Reva, and son, Seth, like to eat. But if Jack had his druthers, he'd probably be a sports statistician.

You've probably noted his name in this column previously. When we make a mistake. Then Jack calls and tells us so, and we give him a credit line for making us feel stupid.

But we don't mind because Jack's an old friend, before he moved to Daly City, in fact, and we'd rather have a friend tell us we're wrong than an editor.

PROBABLY EVERYBODY in the Bay Area who has any kind of a sports library knows Jack because he's constantly on the hunt for new material. For instance, Jack owns the entire sports library of the late Paul Fagan, who started San Francisco's move toward the majors almost 20 years ago when he bought the Seals from Charley Graham.

Jack accomplished that feat at practically no cost. He wrote to Mrs. Fagan shortly after her husband's death and convinced her that she would have little use for such a voluminous sports library.

Also, he convinced her that, while she could undoubtedly make much money by selling the collection to an affluent collector, she would feel much better about it by allowing Jack, who could afford practically nothing, to have it because he would appreciate it so profoundly.

Mrs. Fagan, who hardly needed quick cash, turned the collection over to Riskin for something like the shipping costs.

You can see why Riskin, who at one time studied law (long enough to learn how to plead a losing case), now has quite a collection.

He has all Spalding Guides (National League Guide) since 1885, and all Reach Guides (AL Guide) ever published. The 1885 Spalding, which originally sold for 10 cents, is now worth $30 to $35.

Jack even has the controversial Commissioner's Guide of 1943, put out by Judge Landis himself because of a new historic beef with Spalding and Reach. In 1944, the commissioner, realizing that publishing was out of his line, farmed the guide out to Barnes and Co. (Riskin has that one, too). After 1944 the Sporting News took over most official baseball record publications, and, naturally, Riskin has all of those, too.

Riskin also has all Spalding Football Guides since 1903, and all of baseball's Who's Whos since 1917.

In addition, Riskin owns all of the now totally extinct All-America Conference football record books, and, of course, every NFL record book ever published.

PERHAPS THE MOST interesting tome in Riskin's collection is an encyclopedia-sized baseball book published in 1933 by a Speed Johnson. In the book are lifetime records of all the active players at that time and full page pictures of anybody who was anybody. The publication lasted only one year, however, because the average fan just couldn't afford old Speed's book.

Riskin, who has been collecting since he was 11 years old (1939), also has countless magazines, trade papers, etc., and other odds and ends of record books (he's been concentrating on baseball and football for the past few years) which he hasn't catalogued. What we've listed here is merely a surface scratch.

Jack, in fact, has to occasionally throw books out of his modest Daly City home else his family would be eating dinner on the roof. Some of the surplus finds its way to Riskin's San Francisco branch library, his mother's home, where she's maintained a spare room there — not for Jack, but for his books.

Riskin, who once did part time statistical work for the 49ers while in college, might have had a different kind of career for himself had he accepted a Pittsburgh Pirate offer, in 1946, to play ball in Bakersfield. But Jack didn't accept.

The Pirate tryout camp that year was held at Seals Stadium, and all Jack REALLY showed up for was to be closer to Paul Fagan's book collection.

P.S.: Collectors interested in selling or trading may write to Riskin at 96 Maywood Avenue, Daly City.

LOCAL NOTES: Fisher Realty (Terra Nova High) finally wound up in fourth place in the fast San Francisco Recreation League and although that finish in itself was an upset and a tribute to the boys and to coach Al Figone, we must apologize for putting the hex on them.

You remember we did a column on Fisher Realty when it was undefeated and they went on to lose three of their next four games after the column appeared in print. From now on, we'll wait until seasons are over.

Local pro baseballers ended their minor league seasons in attitudes ranging from good to discouraging. Terry Christman, former Westmoor and San Francisco State star pitcher and first baseman, returned to Daly City with a sore arm after pitching less than 90 innings for the Mets' club in Auburn. He's been told to rest the arm this winter.

Another Westmoorite, however, had himself a fine season. Bruce Hix, playing third base for Giant farm club Decatur in the Midwest League, hit .273, smashed 12 homers and drove across 60 runs.

Alan Gallagher, the Giant bonus prize playing the infield for Springfield, finished disappointingly around .210.

Outfielder Roy Reitz, former Jefferson star playing for the Fresno Giants in the State League hit around .280, hit seven homers, drove in better than 60 runs.

South San Francisco's Toli Solaita, playing for the Sarasota Yankees in the Rookie League, hit .220.

Mike Tyler (El Camino), the only other local boy to be chosen in the big major league draft, played only briefly in the Northern Association but hit well over .300. He's a catcher.

Darrell Weber of San Bruno finished with a respectable 3.60 ERA for the Tacoma Giants.

And Pacifica's sharp shortstop, Rich Morales, hit .225 for the Chicago White Sox farm club, Lynchburg.

NPL PREVIEW

Another Crown for S.S.F.?

Warriors to Be Favored For Crown

By JOHN HORGAN

AFTER ROARING through their 1964 football season without a loss, South San Francisco High School's gridiron warriors can barely contain their enthusiasm for the 1965 season.

But there is one fly in their gridiron ointment: their star halfback, Greg Jones, has been weakened by mononucleosis.

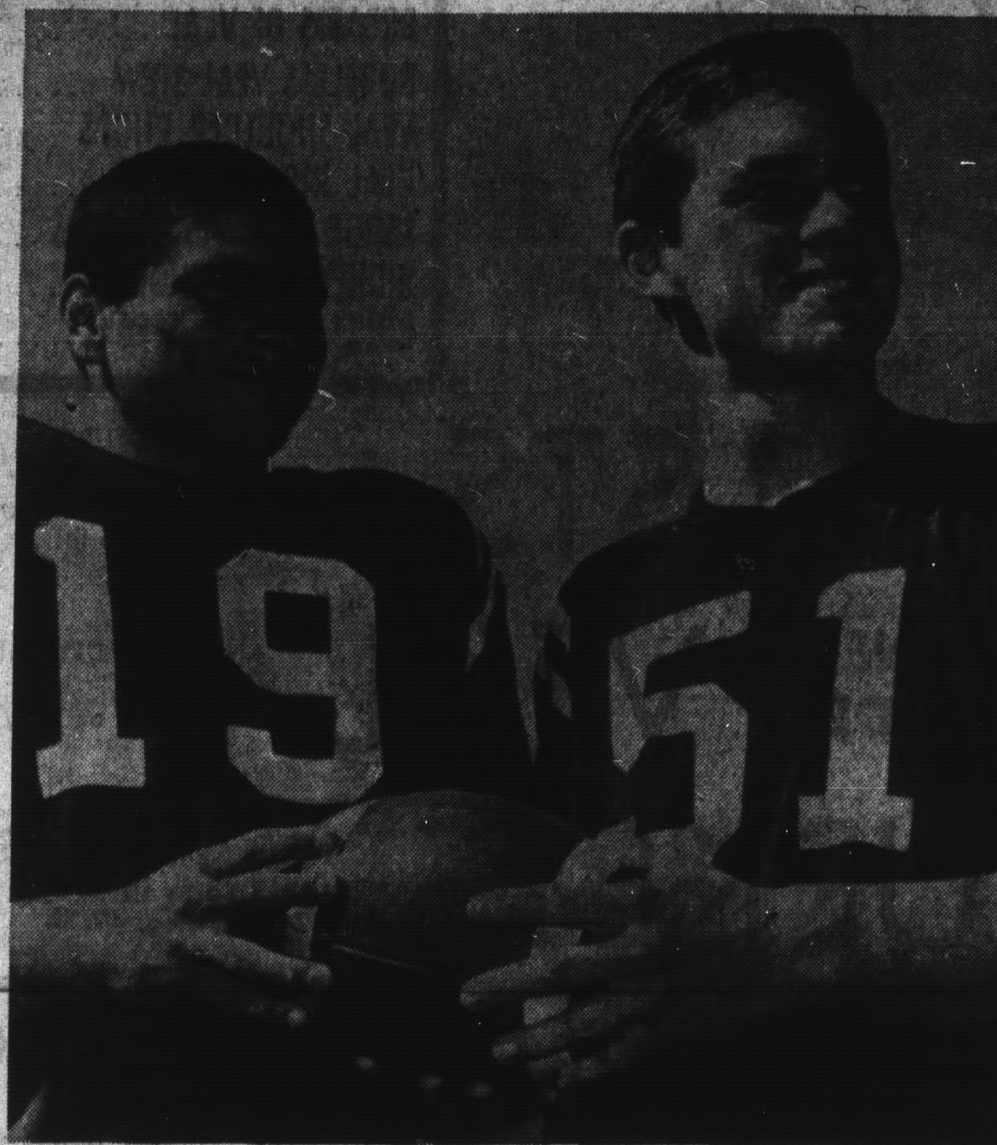

This development, on the surface, might seem to bode ill for the Warriors but rival coaches need not weep for Ray DeJong's team. There is still a load of talent on the squad.

With key men back at most positions and the impetus of an eight-game win streak (six of them shut-outs) to spur them on, the Warriors are already being tabbed as the number one eleven in San Mateo County—regardless of the misfortune which has hit Jones.

Although another undefeated season might be an overly optimistic prediction, the potential is there, observers say, and so is a very favorable schedule.

THE KEY to every team is the quarterback—a good one can make up for a multitude of sins at other spots—and South S.F. has a good one in senior John Moro, an all-North Peninsula League selection in 1964.

Moro was recognized last year as one of the best ball handlers in the area. He throws at a 50 per cent clip as well.

SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO High School's John Moro, left, 1964 all-NPL quarterback, flashes a knowing smile at center Noel Simmons as they talk over Friday afternoon's coming game with Mills of the Mid-Peninsula League. Moro and Simmons led their team to its eighth straight win Friday night, 19-7, over San Lorenzo.

Really, DeJong's main problem (forgetting the Jones' thing) is to find some line depth.

The Warrior coach, who is established as one of the deans of the high school coaching profession, is counting on a good crew of linemen to make up for the losses of all-leaguers John Francis, Joe Del Carl and Ron Labrum.

Jim Panigada (215), Willie Jowers (230), Gene Goulding (220), Buss Barnett (205), Louie Verbrugge (195), Pete Ruggeri (180), Jim Dentone

(165), and Noel Simmons (180) are battling for duty in the middle of the tough SSF trenches. Simmons was all-loop last year and figures to make it again at his center spot.

Ends Joe Smith, Tom Johnson and Bob Hughes are fighting it out for first club slots. Johnson is the biggest prospect at 190 pounds.

"Last year we had some fine big boys to work with," said DeJong. "But this year those boys are gone and we have to break in a new batch." True, Ray did lose a bundle of talent, but what's left is tough—mighty tough.

IN THE BACKFIELD along with Moro, the Warriors have a host of good backs.

Sam Gregory, Mike Mompers (a hard-hitting type), John Dougherty, Frank Cesena, Steve Kingsbury, Bob Martinelli and Steve Marchand could make any team in the area. With the temporary loss of Jones, all will contribute just that much more to the cause.

Dougherty and Gregory are the two fastest backs on the team, with Marchand not far behind. Marchand attended Westmoor last year and broke his collarbone.

This year, he has already suffered a slight concussion.

DeJONG FEELS that his present team might not be quite as tough as last year's model. "The overall strength just isn't there this time," lamented the husky leader.

"We are better in the backfield, but weaker in the line."

He might get some argument from rival coaches who can see only a horde of fine athletes wearing the blue and white of the Warriors.

South San Francisco's 1964 record was something to marvel at: an 8-0-1 record; a scoring rate of nearly 30 points per tilt; a defensive average of almost five points per game; the shutting out of their last six opponents, including every single NPL enemy, and a final rating as the number one team in the county by the Post-Times.

S.S.F. WHIPS REBELS

Jones Set for Mills Tilt

By GARRY NIVER

South San Francisco High School hopes to put together two full halves of football Friday afternoon when the Warriors take on Mills High School at Capuchino — and they might have just the right man to aid them in accomplishing that goal.

Greg Jones, out with mononucleosis in last Friday night's 19-7 victory over San Lorenzo High School, will be back in the lineup Friday for the joust with the defending Mid-Peninsula League co-champs.

The Warriors, who played only one "good" half of all against their East Bay rivals, will be out to avenge the sole blot on their 1964 undefeated record when they duel Mills.

The Vikings tied South S.F., 19-19, last year in the upset of the season.

Fortunately, for the benefit of the nerves of the hometown fans, the best half Friday night came first as they marched off the field at the intermission with a 19-0 lead.

"I was very happy with our performance tonight, though it did seem to let down some in the second part," said Warrior coach Ray DeJong.

"I was especially pleased with Johnny Moro's first two quarters of play — he was a magician at there," the tow-headed coach added.

He also gave a huge amount of credit to the defense, most notably linemen Nel Simmons and Louis Verbrugge, and defensive back Larry Asterlind.

The Warriors made their appearance on the scoreboard with 3:42 left in the first stanza when Moro faked a pitch-out on the option play and slithered through right tackle from five yards out for the six-pointer.

Less than six minutes later South San Francisco made it 12-0, on a repeat performance. This time Moro ran the option play in from six yards out for the touchdown, making it 12-0.

Pete Ruggeri, a guard, shared in the glory of the drive as he took a lateral from Moro and rammed 41 yards to set up the TD.

The final Warrior score came with 3:45 remaining in the first half. Reserve fullback Steve Kingsbury took a handoff from Moro and bulled his way across the stripes from two yards out.

Vince Olson added he extra pint to make it 19-0.

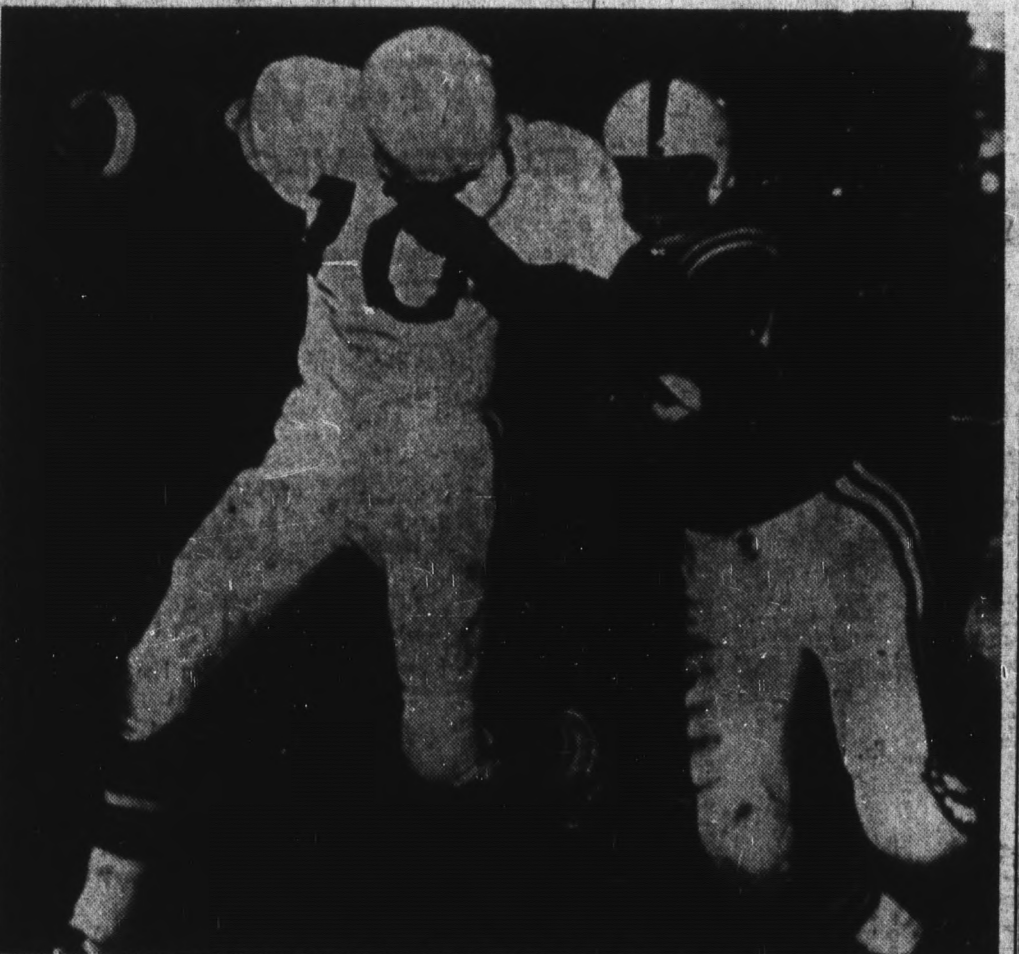

The East Bay squad's lone score was set up in the third quarter when a South San Francisco punt was blocked and San Lorenzo took over on the 18 yard line of the Warriors. From there it took just seven plays for the Rebels to get on the board, with Bob Severini plunging after running around right end.

Warrior Ace Set for Tilt

South San Francisco High School's star halfback, Greg Jones, will be ready to play "at least a half" Friday against Mills High School.

Stricken with mononucleosis two weeks ago, the 185-pound senior back has received doctor's clearance to play in the nonleague contest.

Jones' coach, Ray DeJong, said that Jones "is with the team now for one hour a day in light drills."

PETE RUGGERI, right, South San Francisco High School guard tackles San Lorenzo High School quarterback Pete Corsun. Ruggeri and his Warrior mates racked up their eighth straight win over two years Friday night, 19-7, over the East Bay crew. The Warriors will try to atone for the sole blot in their 1964 record when they tangle with Mills Friday afternoon in San Bruno. The Vikes tied the local team, 19-19, last year.

Jefferson An Enigma

Injuns to Be Tough To Figure

By JOHN BORGAN
WITHOUT A DOUBT, Jefferson High School is one of the toughest high school football teams in San Mateo County to figure.

Joe McGrath's Indians could either be "good" to the point of superb or mediocre. So much depends on new and young talent that premature comments are like shooting in the dark.

With a new supply of bodies there goes a fair blending of outstanding individual players.

Fullback Al Namanny and tackle Bob Bias rank with the fines gridders in the North Peninsula League. And, as usual, McGrath has a good passing quarterback.

WITH THE LOSS of Rich Cuadra, there was some talk that the Indians would be hurting at the field general spot but such will not be the case.

Bill Sheller has come along well at the position and Joe feels that he will make the fans forget about last year.

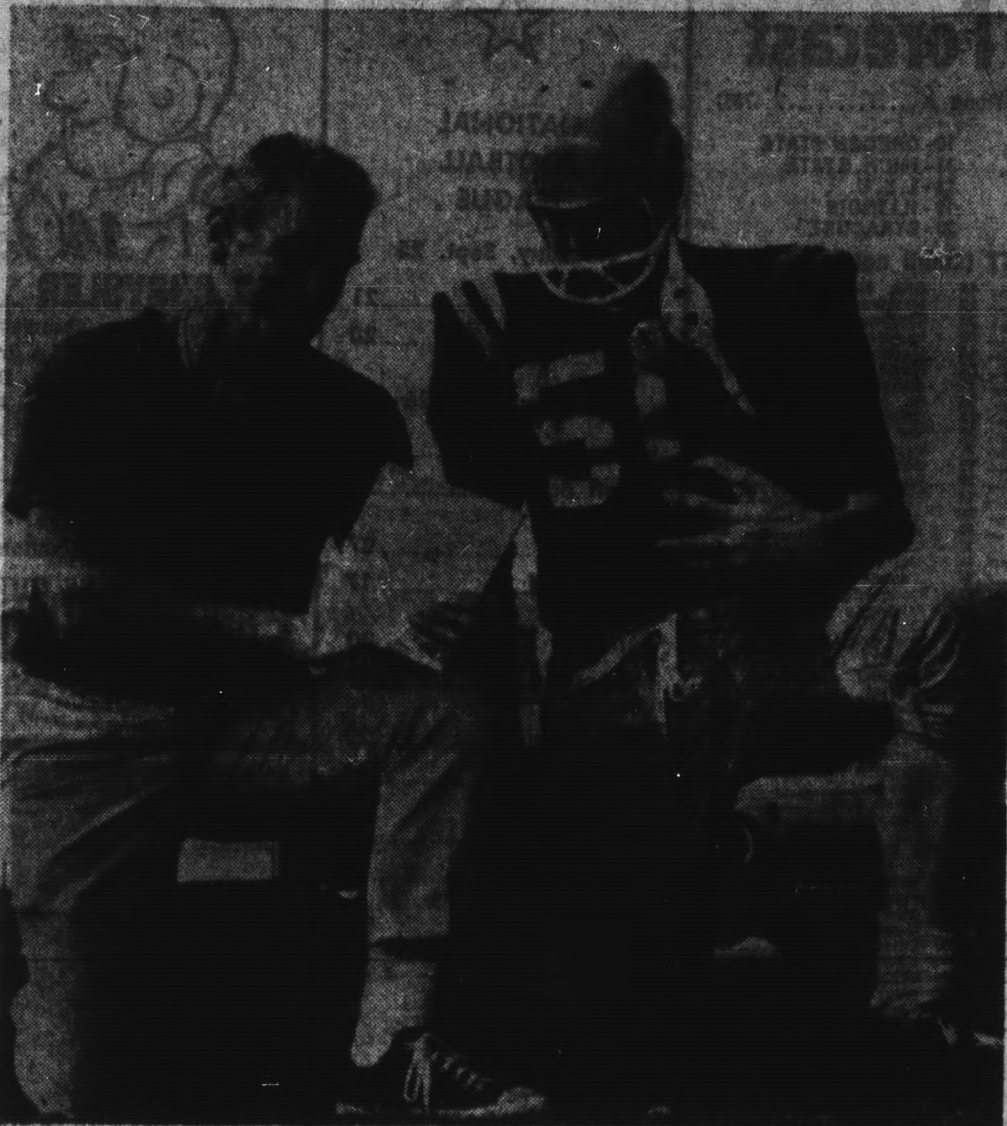

"I really feel that Bill will work out for us," says McGrath. "He has shown the coaches more than we had hoped. We are all right at quarterback, one of our biggest worries."

Jeff, which finished with a surprising 4-1 season mark last year, with a tie with San Rafael as its best accomplishment, is still searching for depth.

McGrath never has had huge turnouts for football and this year is no exception. He greeted only 46 candidates this time and all figure in his plans.

Along with Bias (245) at tackle, the coach has Frank Tolliver (210) and six other lads trying for spots. Bias is thought to be a true college prospect.

THE INDIANS have good

size at the guards and at center. But McGrath is not concerned with mere size. "Give me the quick mobile fellow any time," comments the Indian mentor.

Fullback Namanny (200) is starting his third year as a first string back. He is a sure-fire all-league bet this year.

Behind Namanny lurks another mass of line-busting power in sophomore Charles Lockett (215), a boy for whom McGrath sees big things. Big Charles will play linebacker on defense.

Tiny Andy Fley (158) lines up with Namanny at halfback and puts zip in the Indian running game. Rick Rocklin, Rick Bretton and two others back him up.

Transfer student Jasper Brown from Los Angeles will play the wing.

THE STRONGEST position on the team is probably end. In Bob Untalan and Willie Redmond, who are backed up by huge Marvin Rance (6-5, 195), the Indians have as fine a trio of receivers as any coach could want.

With all this talent there is room for loads of optimism in the Indian camp, but McGrath will have none of it: "It's true, the starting team will be good, but the reserves are weak. We need depth and we need it badly."

Jeff has never had any problem scoring points. Only one team shut the Indians out last year—South San Francisco. The questions come on the defensive side of the ledger. The Indians just allow too many markers. And depth has a good deal to do with that problem.

If McGrath can put together some kind of adequate defense this year, watch the Indians. The Mission Street campus just might have something brewing in the teepee again.

T.N. Wants Points; to Try Again

By MIKE CONNELLY

Still smarting from an inability to score, Terra Nova High School tackled rugged Salesian High School of Richmond Friday after the Tigers began their 1965 football season last week the same way they ended the last one—by not scoring.

Fortunately for the Tigers, who have been shut out six consecutive times, their opposition, Crestmoor High School of the Mid-Peninsula League, failed to tally and the contest ended in a 0-0 tie Friday night at Burlingame.

When one team can amass only 44 total offensive yards, and the other team is assessed 115 yards in penalties, you can't expect much else.

As is the case early in the season, neither team could make any concentrated drive, and both relied mainly on the other's miscues to threaten.

The closest either team came to scoring was late in the fourth quarter when Terra Nova took possession of the ball on the Falcons' 21-yard line following a short punt from the goal line. Jim Bonner, a real work-horse for the Tigers all night, carried to the 16. Then Clancy Smith took it to the four. Quarterback Gary Topolinski, trying to sneak the ball over for a score, had it jarred out of his hands and Crestmoor guard Gary McGraw recovered, silencing the only true scoring threat of the night.

The closest Crestmoor could come to scoring was late in the initial period when they drove from their own 49 to the Tiger 18, but a fumble ended the threat.

The first half was fairly evenly played, with both teams looking for the others' weaknesses.

But the second half was dominated by Terra Nova. The Tigers ran off 27 plays while Crestmoor managed 25. Eleven of them came on the Falcons' longest drive of the night.

Westlake Bowl

THE WORD AROUND Westlake is not "Bowling A Go Go," it's "Go Go Bowling." With the many activities of the winter season, new and experienced bowlers are returning to the lanes in great numbers. Here at Westlake there are many changes which have been made to add to the bowling pleasure of our many customers.

The Bay Area's highest average ladies' league started winter play and it looks like we can expect many spectators on Mondays at 8:30 to watch the girls in action. Opening night leaders with spectacular scores were Dolly Thellen, who rolled a 690 series on games of 255-172 and 223, and Helen Nelson, whose games of 211-154 and 288 gave her a series of 633. Westlake is proud to host this prestige league of the Bay Area.

Opening night in the Native Sons League found a tie for first place with John Crowhurst and Rudy Medina both posting a 560 series. John shot a high game of 194 while Rudy registered a big 222 high game.

The junior director has announced the first of many activities for the "Bowlers of Tomorrow" as a free instruction clinic Saturday. The Bantams, aged 8 to 12, will take over from 9 to 11 a.m. and the boys and girls from 13 to 17 will participate in the program from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Once again, Ora Mayer, long a favorite of the Juniors, will be on hand to provide demonstrations on instruction for the boys and girls. There will be a free raffle for all those attending. Advance reservations may be made at the desk or with Marge Brown.

Thursday was high scoring night at Westlake as two handicap league bowlers scored well over the 600 mark. In the Lake Merced Handicap League, Roger Robles rolled games of 232-221-201 for a great 654 series while in the Southwest Handicap League, Dave Griffin shot a 621 series on games of 181-258-182.

DAYTIME ACTIVITY at Westlake was off with a bang as the ladies celebrated "back to school" with high games, high series, difficult split conversions, and tons of Blue Chip stamps. In the Thursday morning Holy Rollers League, Alice Schneider was the leading lady on opening day with a 175 game as Joy Bipes led the high series parade with 462. Lou Frederico took both high game and high series honors in the St. Thomas More League the same morning with 173 and 474.

Colts Tangle With 'Tangs After Tying

Still one of the more rugged defensive teams in the area, El Camino High School will try to put more punch into its offense Friday night when the Colts duel Capuchino High School under the Clifford Field lights in South San Francisco.

Last Friday, the Colts tied Aragon High School of the Mid-Penninsula League, 6-6, in Burlingame.

A hot September afternoon, plus greenness and opening game jitters, resulted in a listless offensive showing by both clubs.

Camino, a big club which showed tremendous defensive capabilities, took the initiative in the first half, giving up only four yards on the ground and blanking Aragon on first downs.

The Colts drew first blood near the end of the initial quarter. After recovering a fumble on the Aragon 40 yard line, Sexton's crew marched 60 yards downfield to paydirt.

With 1:51 showing on the clock, diminutive Russ Outlaw took a handoff from quarterback Mickey Ackley, and going off left tackle, scrambled 17 yards through Aragon tacklers for the score. The first kick was good, but an ensuing penalty put the ball give yards back, and the second attempt was wide.

Conversely, the second half was nearly all Aragon. The Dons first threatened in the third quarter following a 44-yard pass play from quarterback Bob Cocklin to end Jim Lewis put the ball down the Colt one-yard line. There a tenacious Colt defense, spearheaded by Terry O'Bannon, held the Dons for the required four downs.

The Dons got the ball once again at the outset of the final period, and this time they made no mistakes. With 8:58 showing on the scoreboard, halfback Bud Titus punched over from the one yard line for the Aragon score.

The Dons threatened once more in the waning moments. With three seconds left they tried a desperation field goal from the 36-yard line, but it fell short.

Giants Send Bruce Hix to Tacoma Club

Bruce Hix, the ex-Westmoor High School baseball standout, has been assigned to the Tacoma Giants by the parent San Francisco club, it was learned Saturday.

Hix, who played at Decatur this past season, hit .277 in his first year of professional ball.

He has been assigned to the Pacific Coast League team to protect him from baseball's draft, coming up later this year.

To be claimed by another major league team, Hix must be given a spot on that team's roster and $25,000 paid to his previous club.

Hix will not play in the Arizona Instructional League this winter. Instead he will play in the local Peninsula Winter League.

Jeff Pool to Open Monday

The Jefferson High School swimming pool will be open for public use, beginning Monday.

The pool will be open for recreational swimming from 7:30 to 9 p.m. Monday through Friday nights. Wednesday night will be ladies' night.

The Red Cross will offer swimming lessons at 6:30 each Wednesday night, beginning next week.

Admission charges are 25 cents for any student in the Jefferson Union High School District and 75 cents for adults.

Utility's Profits Entail Obligations

THE SOUTHERN Pacific Company's far-flung railroad system, an integral and historical part of the development of the West shows a profit figures of $95,000,000 in recent operations.

It is able to show this profit because it is a government protected business which in many areas, as on this Peninsula, is a virtual monopoly.

In return for this government protection the railroad owes a duty to the public to give it adequate and reasonably priced service. It must serve the public necessity and convenience at a regulated rate.

Heretofore this rate, for the Southern Pacific Company's Peninsula commuter service has been set by the California State Public Utilities Commission. But this body has denied an application for a state increase on the ground that, by taking a half-dozen trains out of the commuter service, claimed losses of revenue on commuter service have been offset.

THE RAILROAD has now made application to the Interstate Commerce Commission for very substantial fare increases ranging as high as 94 per cent. Such an application bypasses the California PUC and, justifiably, has raised the ire of members of that body.

They have already served notice that they will oppose the fare increases before the ICC. They should be able to express this opposition most effectively since they will be able to present the long and sorry story of steadily decreasing service and steadily increasing fares that have burdened and bedeviled the Peninsula commuters.

THE PUC has previously rejected the Southern Pacific's claims of losses on the commuter service and it is to be hoped that the ICC will be as thorough in its own investigation. All of the figures and data of the PUC will be available.

In a larger sense, the ICC should weigh the fact that the Southern Pacific owes obligations to the public in return for its profits and that any losses incurred in the commuter service, even if they prove to be genuine, are not the sole consideration at stake.

The real issue is whether or not a public utility has duties to the public as well as profit privileges.

The Marquee

The Woes Of Opera

Barbara Bladen

KURT HERBERT ADLER, who has started the Forty-Third Annual Opera Season with tremendous optimism and a new young wife, has outlined the myriad problems of opera production, listing most prominently the difficulty in signing singers.

"Singers don't like to travel. They want to sing as much as possible during a season but the public likes variety and we have to space out individual performances. I'm forever playing chess with airlines' times tables to get these people back and forth to San Francisco."

He contends that the best singers are all wanted at the same time and since they can make more money with recording companies, it is a tremendous feat to even get them to the West Coast.

THE AVAILABILITY OF good recordings at prices the public can afford make demands of the audience and the critics much higher. Since they can hear the best quality recordings in the comforts of home and repeat it if it isn't just right, live performances which only get one chance with the public, must be perfect.

In Europe recordings are so very expensive, the average music lover can't afford them. The price runs as high as $30 per opera recording.

SIGNING SINGERS in advance of the season, the announcement of which influences the sale of subscription tickets, is increasingly difficult, according to the Maestro who for 22 years has guided the San Francisco company.

"In Italy they engage a cast for one opera and do seven performances for three weeks and then go to another city and repeat the process. In Munich, Vienna and Berlin, a singer can work for 11 months straight. But at the Metropolitan they do an opera two or three times but with complete changes of casts. This is dangerous for standards of production and limits a singer's capacity for making a living."

"Opera has been cursed by the jet age which enables singers to go back and forth between San Francisco and Europe as many as three and four times during a season. Weather conditions are always a worry, too. This cuts down rehearsal time and puts a strain on everyone concerned."

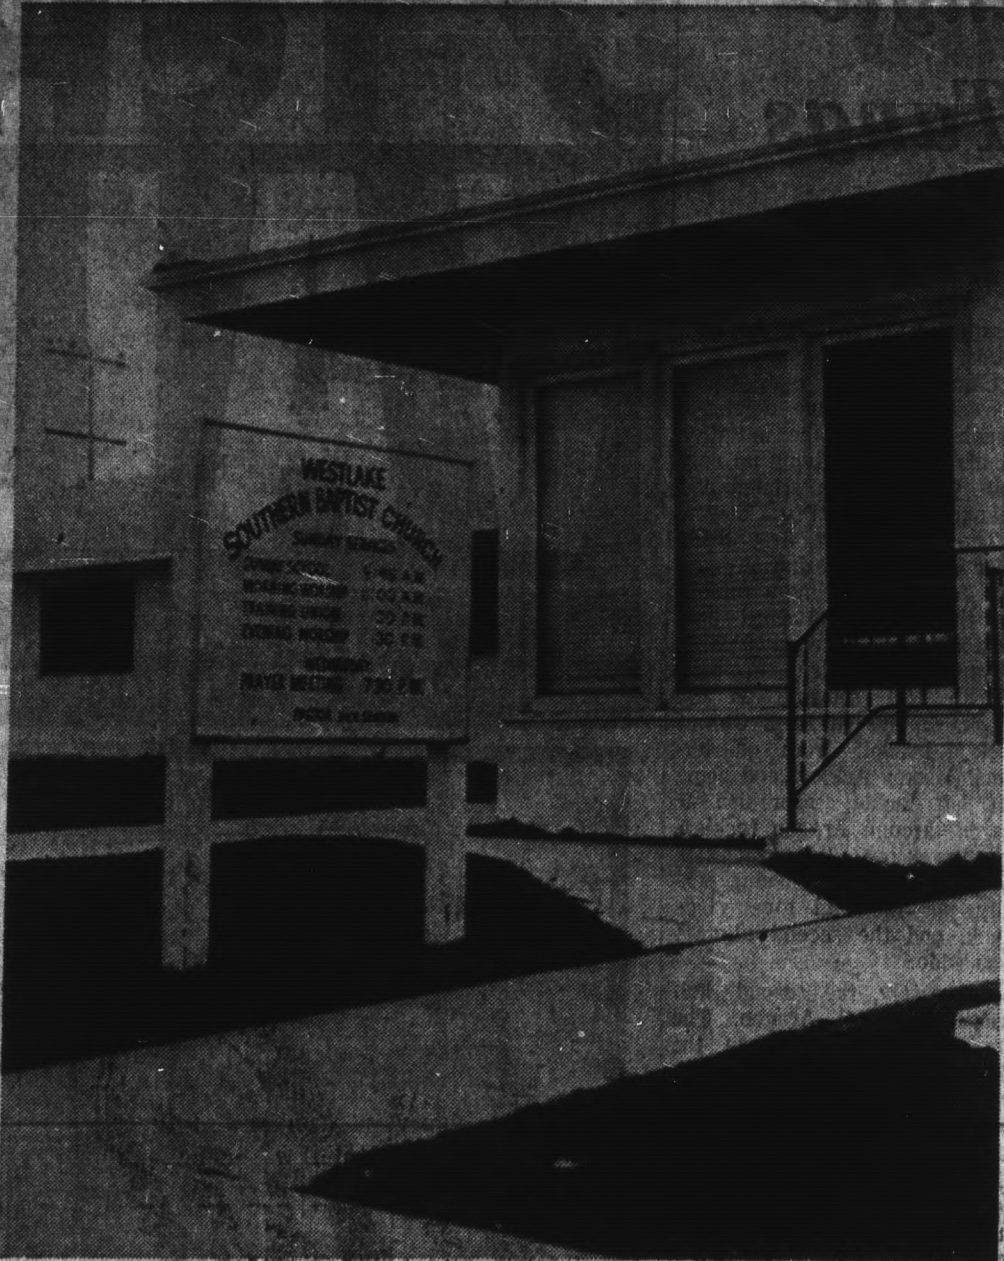

THE LANGUAGE OF OPERA is another problem. American companies must face. Oddly enough, many Americans refuse to sing in English, thinking it will be a loss of stature with directors of European companies, but more accurately because they learn the score in either French or Italian, the international languages, and don't have time to relearn for the infrequent occasions they might be asked to sing in English.

Adler remembers when three singers appeared on stage in the same opera each singing in a different tongue. This must cause havoc with the prompter.

Adler foresees the day when San Francisco will have two orchestras and the season will be extended. Chicago's season is nine weeks and in New York, opera goes on for 26 weeks of performances. He also reminded us that Italian cities provide an 85 per cent subsidy for their opera and the ballet prices are higher.

"It's a continual headache finding ways to improve the product without going bankrupt," he adds.

Westlake Southern Baptist

THE WESTLAKE SOUTHERN Baptist Church at 90 Northridge Drive in Daly City was founded January 3, 1959. Members of the congregation first met in the Westlake Auditorium (the Broadmoor Community Center). The present sanctuary was finished in 1964. The founding pastor was the Rev. Charles Jennings and he served until May of 1963. The Rev. Richard Seaton succeeded him and is presently the congregation's pastor. The church is planning a new 400-seat sanctuary and a new education unit. Membership totals 135 persons. (Post-Times Photo)

Racketeers Use Medicare Ruse

Lorene Bensley

BETTER BUSINESS Bureau's work load was greatly increased during the month of July by queries concerning Medicare.

Answering the telephone calls, letters and questions of visitors to the office has not been easy for the bureau staff as the Social Security office themselves did not know what the exact provisions were until President Johnson signed the sweeping bill July 30, providing Social Security-financed hospital and medical insurance for the aged.

The widespread benefits will not come about automatically and many perplexing problems in Medicare's administration remain to be resolved. There will be months of negotiations between the government and hospitals, health groups and physicians.

IN THE MEANTIME, racketeers, posing as representatives of the Social Security Administration, are already taking advantage of the old folks who seem to be prime targets for con artists.

The number of Americans who are in the 65-year age bracket is estimated to be around 19-million.

Many of the elderly citizens are living on meagre incomes but as Kenneth B. Wilson, president of the National Better Business Bureau stated: "Collectively, their life savings represent a rich haul."

THE RACKET works like this. The con artist, posing as a Social Security agent who has been sent to explain Medicare, calls on the senior citizen.

He does give his intended victim a certain amount of authentic information concerning the program. He usually has with him an official brochure which is available at any Social Security office.

The senior citizens are often grateful for this information as many are not aware of the fact that they are eligible for Medicare if they do not qualify for Social Security benefits.

The racketeer further offers to take care of the paperwork entailed in the enrollment in the program.

He further baits his hook by telling his victim that any person over 65 is eligible for a special discount on Medicare insurance premiums by signing up early and paying in advance.

He offers to collect the "non-existent" advance premiums for the government. If he is successful, he pockets the money and disappears. The victim part of this scheme is that the victim has been misled into believing he has signed up for Medicare.

BURLGARS posing as security agents have been gaining access to elderly person's homes. A bona-fide Social Security agent carries his credentials and is glad to present them upon request. United States law prohibits anyone from posing as a federal official.

Better Business Bureau reminds all Americans over 65 that participation in the basic hospitalization insurance feature is free. No money is needed to enroll.

Those 65 or over who have never applied for benefits will have to enroll in person at a Social Security office during the registration period that began September 1 and ends March 31, 1966.

Those who are now receiving Social Security benefits automatically become eligible for Medicare benefits. Full information and a Medicare enrollment form to be filled out will be sent to them some time during the enrollment period.

THERE ARE two basic programs involved in Medicare. (1) The so-called basic plan covers hospitalization, nursing home care, out-patient diagnosis, out-patient care and health services in the home. Coverage is automatically available to almost all over 65.

(2) Medical Insurance program covers physicians fees (which are excluded from the basic plan) and a variety of other medical services in and out of institutions.

It is a voluntary program, costing $3 a month, which is matched by a government premium. A person must enroll to be covered under this plan.

Do not cancel your private health insurance now. Although Medicare has been signed into law, neither plan will go into effect until July 1, 1966. Nursing home coverage will not begin until January 1, 1967.

The State and Its Aesthetics

Don Miller

THE DICTIONARY defines the adjective "aesthetic" as "of beauty, sensitive to art and beauty, showing good taste, artistic."

The noun of the same spelling in plural form is defined as "the study or philosophy of beauty, theory of the fine arts and of people's responses to them."

We offer this abbreviated vocabulary lesson this morning because we were interested in the book definition of the word "aesthetics" after hearing an illuminating talk by Haig Ayanian of the State Division of Highways last week.

Ayanian's position is officially described as deputy engineer in charge of operations for the division's Bay Area region but unofficially, he must be known as one of the division's chief propagandists — and we use the term propagandist not in a derogatory but a complimentary way.

IN A TALK before the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce, Ayanian commented at length on this business of aesthetics and in particular, how the State Highway Division has taken aesthetics to its heart — which if true, represents a dramatic shift of emphasis in highway thinking in this state and something we believe has been far overdue.

Ayanian noted in discussing the progress of the Junipero Serra Freeway through Daly City and its ultimate extension all the way to San Jose that the freeway would, in his opinion, be the most beautiful freeway in the state and one of the most beautiful highways throughout the land.

Now, these are mighty tall words when you consider the number of miles of freeway and superhighways we have in this country. But Ayanian stuck to his roadway guns.

For many years, he pointed out, the nation was primarily interested in laying down concrete and getting automobiles and trucks out of the mud of pioneering days and onto highways that would serve as fast and efficient transportation routes.

As such, aesthetics in highway building was something unheard of and if now and then someone thought a highway would be more pleasing to the eye if it were shifted to this route or that or built in this way or that, the suggestion was ruled out on the basis of cost.

However, Ayanian noted, that was yesterday and today society has become more affluent — so much so, in fact, that now we can afford the extra costs of aesthetics in not only roadway building but in the construction of other public facilities as well. Thus, although the Junipero Serra Freeway will probably cost 10 per cent more because the Highway Division has designed bridges and overpasses that are pleasing to the eye rather than strictly functional, Californians are able to foot this higher bill and are willing to do so.

WHICH BRINGS us back to the main point of all this — what can be considered as aesthetically appealing in highway building? Ayanian, we thought, came up with an astute answer for that one: "Aesthetics is a funny word. Does it mean that a bridge support should be a round column or a square one? We really don't know. What is aesthetically appealing to one person might not be to another.

"However, if a person can drive down a freeway and not be conscious of anything ugly, then that must be an aesthetic freeway."

Admittedly, that's a pretty broad definition of aesthetics as it applies to highway building. But in view of the broad definition that we all have of aesthetics to begin with, it's probably the closest the highway people can come to determining a standard to follow in building roadways that no longer offend the eye.

WHETHER THE KIND of attractive roadway Ayanian says the Junipero Serra Freeway is going to be truly presages a whole new era in state highway building remains to be seen.

But at least things are looking up. Like, for example, the division has become scenic-conscious in talking about a new coast highway north of San Francisco to replace — or supplement — that most beautiful, though admittedly most difficult, cliffhanger that runs all the way north past Ft. Bragg.

Plans for this highway are in the deep freeze right now — primarily because of vehement opposition among some Marin County folk to anything that would change the rusticity of their coast highway.

Up in the Lake Tahoe area, the Highway Division also has been acutely conscious of aesthetics in the wake of opposition stirred up over its proposal to replace two-lane Highway 89 with a freeway.

Of all the places in California where something is as stake in terms of the preservation of the state's natural heritage, there is probably no other area in which the division can show its true aesthetic colors better than in plans for highway building around Lake Tahoe.

SO MUCH FOR aesthetics. There was another portion of Ayanian's talk that also particularly caught our ear and that was his explanation of that wild S-curve on the Alemany Boulevard detour that carries eastbound traffic from Westlake.

Ayanian readily admitted that "there has been some criticism." Which is to put it mildly.

He explained that in constructing the detour, the division attempted to come up with a plan that would both reduce traffic interruption to a minimum and yet enable the division to utilize a part of the detour route in the next phase of the construction associated with the interchange being built at Alemany and Junipero Serra.

Granted, this kind of thinking is designed to save taxpayer dollars. But in this instance, there already has been one fatality on that curve (true, the victim was reported speeding) and a number of close misses.

It seems, like Ayanian pointed out, that California motorists have been "spoiled" by inoffensive, well-thought out construction detours and when they run up against one that doesn't fit this form, the result can be tragic.

'History—a Poem Written by Time'

Samuel Chandler

"HISTORY," wrote Shelley, "is a poem written by time upon the memories of man." Samuel Eliot Morison's best seller, "The Oxford History of the American People," is such a poem. It is graceful, sparkling — here whimsical, there precise, everywhere vigorous and daring.

The chronology flows along, showing Professor Morison's mastery of the facts and details. Again and again it is warmed by a curious anecdote, an unfamiliar fact, an apt quotation.

R. D. Heffner wrote of it in the Saturday Review: "Here are 1,160 pages of sparkling living history, brimming with personality, bright with rich insight." Another reviewer calls it a splendid book, vivid and inspiring.

In the preface Morison writes that his main ambition was to recreate American ways of living in bygone eras. He sought to picture the social and economic development; he promises to pay special attention to "horses, ships, popular sports and past-times; eating, drinking, and smoking habits."

In this book he has placed "pugilist cheek-by-jowl with presidents; rough-necks with reformers, artists with ambassadors."

BOOKS LIKE THIS serve to remind us that America was made by little people rather than noblemen and worldly rich. Not one nobleman, not even a member of the gentry was aboard the Mayflower. Virginia failed until her promoters devised a way to bring in tradesmen and indentured servants.

The first Washington was a sailor; William Bradford a weaver; William Brewster a village postmaster, William Boyd the son of a goldsmith.

The men who led in the western movements were humble rather than rich. Daniel Boone was the son of a trapper; John Finley, Andrew Jackson, Samuel Polk, and the first of the Clay family were refugees from Northern Ireland.

The forty-niners were, by and large, humble farmers and clerks. Many who became the elite of the West started out as common as nails — Crocker, Stanford, Sutro, Ralston, Sharon, Brannon, to name a few.

IN MANY INCIDENTS, the immigration to America of common man was carefully planned. Among the leaders who knew the value of tradesmen were William Penn who advertised that Pennsylvania was open to all who believed that men are equal and Gen. James Oglethorpe, who was a gentleman of rank but looked for people to come to Georgia who... "wanted a fresh start."

Even the leaders of movements that were peculiar to a sect, William Penn and Brigham Young are but two, advised their agents to "draw upon the great middle class of society, those trained and insured to labor."

Upon arriving in America the common man began to move. He wanted "comfort, happiness and self-respect." To obtain these, he and his followers developed energy and vision. They devised what Professor Morison calls a judicious mixture of firmness and justice.

With Oliver Wendell Holmes this common man became an American who cried "... this world is not so much where we stand as in what direction we are moving... we must sail sometimes with the wind and sometimes against it — but we must sail, and not drift, nor be on anchor."

THE "OXFORD HISTORY of the American People" was written for the common man of America today to read. Its author writes, "This is not a textbook, but a history written especially for my fellow citizens to read and enjoy."

To make this so, he uses a style that is pleasant to read. Usually it is quite dignified, sometimes it is slangy, always it is peculiar to its author, a great historian.

This Funny World

WHAT WILL probably be recorded as one of the longest extemporaneous talks in the history of the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce took place at the chamber's noon luncheon session Thursday in the Friar Room of Serra Bowl.

Chamber President Dave Friedenberg, glancing about the table for anyone who might have a comment on a proposal for another municipal court in the North County, spotted Mayor Frank Pacelli.

In the middle of a steak, apologized that he didn't have anything to say because he hadn't boned up lately on the courts situation.

Postmaster Vince Murphy, sitting across from the Mayor, reminded Pacelli that the new city hall complex has been designed to include a courtroom.

PACELLI thanked Murphy for the reminder and as he was about to sit down, his face lit up and he reached for a document inside his coat.

It was a reprint of a New York Times article by Russell Baker that Assemblyman Leo Ryan had mailed Pacelli. The Mayor said he thought the members would enjoy it.

Pacelli then proceeded to read the reprint, which draws a humorous analogy between the New York City water crisis and a bygone Indian civilization in Colorado, and his reading regaled the chamber for more than 10 minutes.

After the Mayor had finished, Friedenberg quipped that Pacelli had come to the luncheon "extraordinarily well prepared" for someone who at first had said he didn't have anything to say.

THE CHILDREN'S HOME Society of California will hold its gala Fiesta, Bazaar and Carnival at 3000 Telegraph Avenue, Oakland, starting at 10 a.m. Saturday, according to Mrs. Betty Howatt of Pacifica, the local publicity chairman.

According to Mrs. Howatt, whose years of service to the society make her a veteran of many similar fund raising activities, 28 volunteer chapters from the Bay Area counties will fill booths with merchandise for sale. Everything from crushed glass butterfiles to hand decorated bread baskets will be exhibited to prospective buyers.

The Fiesta, will also prove a delight to the small fry. Mrs. Howatt reports, for there will be games of all sorts, St. Bernard dog rides, a cake walk, and, as a surprise, one of the Bay Area's favorite performers for children will be on hand. Naturally there will be food and snack booths galore!

Mrs. J. H. Gilpatrick and Mrs. Hartley Appleton of Daly City will be in charge of the booth being sponsored by the Daly City-Pacific Star chapter. The duo will be selling a delightful collection of holiday decorations, imported cheeses and delectable home preserves and pickles.

Home Society members are currently scurrying about putting finishing touches on the decorations which will transform the court yard of the society's headquarters into a Mexican Market and the parking lot is already beginning to assume the appearance of a circus carnival.

Admission will be free and the bargains are bound to be tempting, to plan to take a leisurely drive across the Bay, shop a bit, allow the children a bit of hilarity and at the same time help one of the very deserving adoption agencies in the state.

The Children's Home Society was founded 74 years ago and during past years has earned itself an enviable reputation for its service to the community.

AN EARLY CALIFORNIA theme will be the setting for the Golden Gate Kindergarten Association Auxiliary's annual "members only" party to be held on Saturday, September 25, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norman C. Stone in Atherton.

The Stone's home will be bedecked with bric-a-brac reminiscent of an early California dance hall. Plans for the evening include cocktails, dinner, dancing, games and some unusual entertainment.

Mrs. Gene McMurchy is chairman of the affair, assisting her will be Mrs. John P. Borgwardt, Mrs. Donald M. Haet, Mrs. Howard Harden, Mrs. Reinold J. Jones, Mrs. Peter Kane, Mrs. Edmund Lennig and Mrs. Donald Tomel. All are neophyte members of the Auxiliary. Guests will be greeted by Mrs. Marshall Sanders, president of the unit.

"DISAPPOINTED" BY recent news from their son Boyd, are Mr. and Mrs. Del Mannion of Pacifica. The Mannions were preparing to welcome their seafaring son home this month and making preparations for his enrollment in college in February when they received a letter saying that his time in service has been extended and he will soon be shipping out again.

MRS. JUNE ST. PETER, home from Canada and Alaska where she and her husband have been while he worked on his research project during his sabbatical, has stepped into the post of recording secretary for the Friends of the Library, Daly City Branch, according to Mrs. Hal Fox the publicity chairman.

Mrs. St. Peter will be among the members of the executive board on hand to meet members of the Friends and guests when the first book review of the fall is given tomorrow morning in the Coral Room of the Westlake library.

Samuel Chandler, librarian and Post columnist, will review two new books concerning the West, beginning at 10:30 a.m. According to Mrs. Fox, the review and the coffee hour which proceeds it, at 10 a.m., are open to the public and anyone who feels an interest in the work of the Friends of the Library is urged to drop by. Membership blanks are available at the four Daly City libraries or prospective members may call Ted Weiher, membership chairman, PL 5-8176, for more information.

IT IS STILL not too late to make reservations for the Holy Angels Women's Guild annual retreat scheduled for this week end at Vallambrosa in Menlo Park.

Mrs. Marty Segue, publicity chairman, reports that persons calling today or early tomorrow may still plan to attend. Sign up immediately by calling Mrs. Elaine Frates, PL 5-2029.

Members of the Guild's Executive board were the hostesses for the Silver Jubilee celebration for Mother Consilia, recently. Members of the congregation gathered for tea in the parish hall to help mark the anniversary.

A "DAY WITH THE 40ERS" is planned as the first pre-festival activity to be staged by the Our Lady of Mercy Festival Committee, according to Mrs. Kathryn Glebow, publicity chairman for the Westlake Catholic Women.

October 7 will be the deadline for reservations which will include tickets to the Viking-49er game on October 24, bus transportation and a light buffet, to be served in the parish hall following the game. Tickets, costing $7.50 may be reserved now by calling Al Buccell, PL 5-4333 or Mrs. Dorothy Burns, PL 6-2144.

HOME FROM BEAUTIFUL Lake Tahoe are Judge and Mrs. Frank Blum, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Huph, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spadarella, Thomas Bocci and Mr. and Mrs. Peter Markovich.

The local golf enthusiasts were among the scores who took part, actively or as interested observers, in the Harvey Pro-Am Golf Tournament.

NEXT WEDNESDAY will be the date for the members-only luncheon being sponsored by the North Peninsula Circle for the Florence Crittenton Home. Planned primarily as a social gathering in preparation for a busy Fall program, the luncheon will be in the Westlake Club House, beginning at 11 a.m.

By NELL NORTON

GREETINGS GIRLS, what are you doing to fill those lonely hours now that the children are back in school? Are you doing all those fun things that you've been putting off for so long? Things like washing the walls, hemming the drapes, cleaning the oven or pulling all those healthy weeds out of the lawn?

They're the jobs that make you feel righteous but mad because you have to do them. My preference runs more toward catching up on my reading, watching TV, visiting with my friends and playing golf. The kind of doings that make you feel guilty—but glad. Fortunately, most of us can fill our lives with a balance of the "have-to's" and the "want-to's" and manage to keep the house clean and the book-of-the-month read.

Whether you are reading or weeding you still have to pause at some point in the day and plan dinner. And the best kind of meal on a busy day is a casserole for you can prepare it when you have time and pop it in the oven when the dinner hour sneaks up on you. This tamale casserole is just that kind of dish.

FIESTA TAMALES

- 3 tbs. olive oil
- 1 onion minced, small
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 1 lb. ground beef
- 1/2 lb. pork sausage
- 1 can tomatoes (no. 2)
- 1 can whole corn (No. 2)
- 2 teas. salt
- 2 teas. chili powder
- 24 pitted ripe olives
- 1 cup cornmeal
- 1 cup milk
- 2 eggs, well beaten
- 1 1/2 cup grated cheese

Heat the oil in frying pan and saute the onion and garlic until golden. Add the ground beef and sausage and brown. Put the tomatoes, corn, salt and chili powder in a saucepan and simmer for 20 minutes. Let this mixture cool and then combine with the meat.

Pour into a shallow casserole 10-by-13 inches and press the olives into the meat mixture. (You may use more olives if you wish.)

Combine the cornmeal, milk and well-beaten eggs and spread with a spoon over the filling. Sprinkle the grated cheese over the top and bake in a 350-degree oven about an hour, or until cornmeal is baked.

You can prepare the meat mixture early in the day and just add the cornmeal before baking. This batter is very thin but it bakes up into a thick topping. A very generous casserole and could serve eight, depending on appetites.

A NICE LIGHT dessert would go nicely with a dinner like this. And this frosty fruit pie will fill that bill.

FROSTY FRUIT PIE

- 1 cup sifted flour
- 1/2 teas. salt
- One-third cup shortening
- 3 to 4 Tbs. cold water

Sift together the flour and salt. Cut in the shortening until the particles are the size of small peas. Sprinkle the cold water over the mixture, a little at a time, while tossing and stirring lightly with a fork. Add water to the driest particles, pushing lumps to side, until dough is just moist enough to hold together.

Form into a ball. Flatten to about a half-inch. Roll out on floured board of pastry cloth to circle 1 1/2 inches larger than pie pan. Fit loosely into pie pan. Gently pat out air pockets. Fold edge to form a standing rim; flute. Prick with fork. Bake in 450-degree oven 10 to 12 minutes. Cool thoroughly.

FILLING

- 1 1/4 cups crushed pineapple
- 1 pkg. lemon-flavored gelatin
- 3/4 cup sugar you may vary the amount of sugar to suit your taste.)
- 1 cup evaporated milk
- 1 Tbsp. lemon juice

Bring the pineapple to a boil and stir in the lemon gelatin, stirring until the gelatin is completely dissolved. Then mix in the sugar and blend well. Set aside to cool until almost stiff. In the meantime, chill the evaporated milk in a refrigerator tray until soft crystals form around the outside edges (15 to 20 minutes). Then whip the milk until stiff adding the lemon juice.

Pour the whipped milk over the almost stiff gelatin pineapple mixture. Beat in slowly with rotary beater or electric mixer at a low speed. Pour into baked pie shell. Chill at least one hour.

Success tip: For a fluffy high pie be sure the gelatin mixture is almost stiff, and the evaporated milk is whipped until it stands in stiff peaks.

Make Good Accents

Orange and turquoise continue as leading accent colors for the home. But avocado green, antique jade and metallic gold are gaining, reports one manufacturer of accessories. Also gaining — wood tones, mostly of fruit-wood and walnut.

CLUB GETS LION'S SHARE

Flower Show Awards Given

The Daly City Garden Club won the bulk of the awards at its own eleventh annual flower show, held last weekend at the First National Bank of Daly City.

Mrs. Joseph P. Schultz won the artistic arrangements division tri-color award for being the highest scoring blue ribbon winner from a selected group of classes.

Mrs. Schultz also won the sterling silver First National Bank trophy award for the "best in show."

Mrs. Lyall Ingersoll won honors in the artistic arrangements division with an award of distinction in the arrangements section.

John Fern won an award of merit with his potted rose plant. He won the "best in show—horticulture" with his entry.

The Daly City club won the sweepstakes award. The level of competition was high, officials of the club said.

The club will meet at 8 p.m. October 5 in the War Memorial Community Center to hear a talk by Charles Toona.

Curly Locks Have Ancient Ancestry

CHICAGO — Curly hair, back on top for fall, was beloved of the ancients too. Although the Egyptians often shaved their heads and wore wigs, they rarely went without a curl in their hairpieces, reports the Helene Curtis Guild of Professional Beauticians. Not only were elaborate braids and curls in use, but color was of prime concern. Henna gave a red cast, but blue and yellow dyes were also used on the hair.

"DENTAL HEALTH FACTS"

Many people do not know that a person can lose all of his teeth—even though they are not decayed.

Gum disease can cause loss of all teeth, by leading to destruction of the bony sockets and the periodontal membranes that teeth need for support.

Gum disease is often the result of neglect that allows accumulation of tartar on teeth; if not removed, these accumulations start the processes that result in disease.

Regular checkups give the dentist an opportunity to guard against gum disease by cleaning and scaling the teeth. Even if the gum disease has started, your dentist, if given a chance, is usually able to prevent serious trouble.

Dr. Campbell tries to limit his practice to the making of dental plates, partial plates, removable bridges and extractions for same; however, he recommends that you see your dentist at least twice a year in order to help protect the use of your natural teeth as even the beautiful modern dentures are not as efficient as healthy, natural teeth.

Federal Cash Sought for County Sewage Plan Study

Application for $94,000 in federal funds to pay for preliminary engineering studies of two additional phases of the proposed county-wide sewage disposal plan has been approved by the County Board of Supervisors.

The board previously authorized the expenditure of $50,000 for a crash study of the feasibility of enlarging the San Mateo municipal disposal plant and constructing a long outfall from it into the deep waters of the bay.

One application approved is for $24,000 for plans for construction of an interceptor sewer from Millbrae to the San Mateo plant, including construction of pumping facilities at the Millbrae and Burlingame plants. The project envisions acquisition by the county of the latter two plants.

Fire Damages Empty House

Fire of undetermined origin caused damage estimated at $2,000 to an unoccupied house at 199 Vista Grande Avenue in Daly City about 4:30 a.m. last Wednesday.

Flames burned an area around a floor, furnace and scorched walls and a ceiling, Daly City firemen reported. They said the fire appeared to have started near the furnace.

30 to 60 Day Wait Period Faces Air Force Hopefuls

The United States Air Force has announced that young men applying for duty with the Air Force will be subject to the general draft right up until the time of taking the Air Force oath of enlistment.

The reason for the change of procedure, the Air Force said, is that a 30 to 60-day waiting list has materialized for young men choosing the Air Force.

The Air Force has a restricted flow of enlistees that it can

Youth Holds Up Station

A young man walked into the Mobil Service Station at 1006 Grand Avenue in South San Francisco, at 9:45 Thursday night, pointed a .45 automatic pistol at the lone attendant, and demanded the money from the cash register.

The unidentified attendant who had been closing up the station for the night, handed over about $100, police said.

The robber, identified only as a male in his 20's, escaped on foot.

PUC Calls for Bids for Trestle at S.F. Airport

The first step in a $4-million improvement program for Runway 28 Left-10 Right at San Francisco International Airport was taken last week as the Public Utilities Commission authorized a call for bids for the construction of a 3,500-foot trestle eastward into the BAY.

The trestle, expected to cost approximately $200,000, will provide platforms for the installation of Instrument Landing System lights and electronic equipment for aircraft navigational aids by the Federal Aviation Agency, and weather visibility devices by the U.S. Weather Bureau.

James K. Carr, general manager of Public Utilities, in recommending the call for bids, told the Commission completion of the trestle and installation of the landing aids are essential before fill for the extension of Runway 28 Right to 10,000 feet can begin.

Business Up, Says Census

California's industries reported a value added by manufacture in 1963 of $17 billion, an increase of 42 per cent over the value added for 1958, according to a preliminary report of the 1963 Census of Manufacturers issued by the U.S. Department of Commerce, Bureau of the Census.

"Value added by manufacture" approximates the value of products shipped less the cost of materials used to manufacture the products.

Nick Gust Returns With Island Dining Report

NICK GUST, his lovely wife, LORRAINE, and children are back from the Islands. Nick, who is as tan as a beach boy, brought back a restaurant report that would compare with any the late Duncan Hines could have edited. Listening to his rundown, you'd think the vacation was one feast after another. Anyway, welcome home, Nick. We all missed you. . . . For something different, food-wise as well as a complete change in atmosphere, visit THE CASTAWAY on Coyote Point for a special luncheon or dinner. . . . TANGA DANA, wife of San Jose Attorney PAUL DANA, loves to sing when they dine at the VILLA CHARTIER. And the customers enjoy Tanga's soprano voice expertly accompanied by the music of ARPAD and GEORGE. . . . Haven't seen my friend VINCE LICATA, of late. Hear-tell he had an "argument with a bee" who decided to leave his stinger for a calling card.

Vicky Alvarez Returns Sept. 27

Vicky Alvarez, one of the most delightful "Ladies of the Dance" to appear at Luz Garcia's colorful Sinaloa in many years, will share top billing with the Los Roques Duo, plus an all-star cast, come Monday evening, September 27. Vicky's Paris imported costumes and special material routines are sure-fire audience winners.

The beautiful Brentwood Lodge has exquisite banquet rooms that have become the place for organizations and individuals to hold sales meetings, wedding receptions, etc., in a congenial atmosphere.

The World Series fever is much in evidence at the Leaning Tower. Owner Joe Ercoli says folks are already planning luncheon and dinner reservations here. The Leaning Tower is located about a Willie Mays' home run shot from Candlestick Park, so transportation is no problem.

Frank Torres' Montara Beach Hotel restaurant is open Wednesday through Sunday. Friday and Saturday night dancing to the John Rusconi Trio.

Continental and American dinners are a specialty at Ron's Surf House. Special attention, late diners: Surf House dining room is open until 10 p.m. each evening; Friday and Saturday until 12 midnight.

The Tin Pan Alley is currently featuring the Pierre Dupont Show; dancing to the music of Johnny Coppola's Orchestra. No cover charge for this entertainment package.

Enrico Romano, the Pacifica pizza whiz, is working up a new recipe for a pizza topping that he claims will have all of you calling for seconds.

Once A Thief "Shot"

At Big Al's in S.F.

Nitery goers should be interested to know that many scenes in the new pic, "Once A Thief," now being shown in theaters about San Francisco and the Peninsula, were "shot" in Big Al's, Exotic Dancer Tara, along with Robert Taylor, Trey Dodds' top recording artists, and Big Al's Gummolls, go to make this one of the big fun spots on the North Beach neon strip.

Lee Arnoux, a featured act at the North Beach Chi Chi club, has a bright future in the vocal field. In my success book, Lee will soon be top neoned on the Nevada circuit.

Nice to see Earle W. Quinn back at the Benjamin Franklin Hotel. Mr. Quinn has rejoined the staff as assistant manager. Erwin Best and Raymond Cook also direct the operation of this favorite San Mateo hotel, restaurant, and cocktail center.

The perfect prelude to a delicious Italian dinner served at Bertolucci's is a Caesar Salad. A yummer, for sure.

Don and Jean Koblick's Gourmet Table is doing capacity restaurant business—and rightly should, what with "All you can eat" Chinese, Mexican, American and Italian dishes served at just $1.50.

Villa Hotel's soon-to-open coffee shop will be a welcome addition to the El Camino Real restaurant scene.

Bill Gilbert's wild Tiger-A-Go-Go-Club at the San Francisco Airport's Hilton Inn is currently featuring a versatile and talented group of entertainers headed by Jim Doval and the Gauchos. They will be entertaining at the Tiger-A-Go-Go for two more weeks, before heading for Tahoe's Stateline, and then on to Las Vegas.

Want a fun filled evening? Take your best gal to Earle Van Asperen's new Gold Street and enjoy the festivities. The executive cocktail hour is from 5 p.m. to 9 p.m. The hors d'oeuvres are exciting—everything from cool tidbits to piping hot chafing dish tantalizers. Every night at midnight it's New Year's Eve, except Sunday. Hats, horns, noisemakers, confetti, etc. A fun fest from 9 p.m. until 2 a.m.

Luncheons are also being served at Gold Street. Delicious sandwiches catered by the famous Goldberg-Bowen and brought especially to you by pretty gals wearing Gay 90's outfits.

Free Pastry Cart At Barney's Casino

Leave it to Barney O'Malia to come up with another smash idea—and always in the customers' favor. Barney's Casino, Lake Tahoe (South Shore), is now featuring a pastry cart between the hours of 2 a.m. and 10 a.m.—and everything served from the cart is FREE—up to and including the coffee. Because this idea is proving so popular with the early morning guests, it wouldn't surprise me if Barney put it on a 24-hour basis.

New Specialty Acts Booked in Golden Casino

Barry Ashton's frivolous musical, "Folles de Paris," which has been playing to near capacity audiences all summer in the swank Mardi Gras Theater-Restaurant at the Golden Casino in Reno, is still exercising its charm over the people who throng in to see the show. "Folles de Paris," playing at the Golden Casino for the first time in America, is now in a new edition. Showtimes: 8:30, 11:00 and 1 a.m. every night.

ONE OF THE MOST EXCITING opening nights in the Las Vegas RIVIERA HOTEL's 16-year history took place, last night, when Liberace premiered his new show in the Versailles Room.

This marked a twin-anniversary celebration: The Candelabra Kid's twenty-fifth year in show business; Riviera's tenth year in operation. To further the coincidence, Liberace was the first act to play the Versailles Room when the Riviera was opened in 1955. Liberace presents an entirely new act for the occasion—one which utilizes the high-stepping RIVIERA RANGERS—ETTES, the hotel's Texas-flavored chorus line. Sparkling "C'est la Femme," the newest innovation in Las Vegas entertainment circles, opened a long-term engagement in HOTEL THUNDERBIRD's remodeled Continental Theater, last week. DENISE DARCEL, the enticing French bombshell, headlines the star-studded cast that features four spectacular production numbers. "C'est la Femme" is staged and directed by JERRY SCHAFER; RENE DE HAVEN, choreographer.

HANDSOME DALE PRICE, the versatile pianist, organist, singer, composer, and arranger, continues to delight Peninsula audiences with his keyboard renditions nightly at San Jose's elegant sky-high Plateau 7. Covering the entire seventh floor of the new Swenson Building on First Street, Plateau 7 is managed by the very personable Jack Waller, and is open seven days a week, offering its patrons a spectacular panoramic view and luxurious surroundings, with superb Continental cuisine. Sally Rand, packing Goman's Gay 90's, has been held over again. Spritely Sam Nixon was given a birthday dinner party at Del Vecchio's, last week, on his 90th birthday. The attendant at the Atherton Club's parking lot stepped out of a woman's car after parking it and said, "Hey, lady, you better get your horn fixed—your brakes aren't too good!" Eddie Brannick, popular secretary of our pennant-bound Giants, is a regular at Low Lehr's—loves those steaks!

Fire Damage Is $2,000

Flames swept through the basement of a vacant house at 147 Santa Barbara Avenue in Daly City shortly after 6 a.m. today Friday, causing damage estimated at more than $2,000 to the structure.

Firemen said the flames also burned through a bedroom floor. Cause of the fire was not immediately determined. The fire was spotted by a young boy who pulled a box alarm.

Owners of the house, as of March 1 this year, were listed in the Daly City clerk's office as Jack and Bertha Cooper.

Divine Services

AND CHURCH ACTIVITIES OF DALY CITY, COLMA, PACIFICA AND SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO

N. County Jews Note New Year

The North County Jewish Community will usher in the Jewish New Year, 5726, with Rosh Hoshonah services at 8 Sunday night.

Rosh Hoshonah begins the 10-day period known as the "Days of Awe," ending with Yom Kippur, a day of fasting and atonement.

The manner in which Jews observe Rosh Hoshonah in 1965 will be virtually unchanged from the manner in which they observed it during the Babylonian Exile (586 B.C.), though Orthodox Jews celebrate it for two days and Reform Jews for one.

The most dramatic moment in the observance, according to officials of the faith, will come with the blowing of the shofar, a ram's horn.

The sound of the shofar is a piercing call. It symbolizes man's need to awaken from his indolence and apathy and return to the ways of God, according to Jewish teaching.

Congregation B'nai Israel will hold its services in its new synagogue at 1575 Annie Street, Colma. The services will be conducted by Rabbi Solomon A. Shore and Julius Blackman, Cantor.

Temple Judea at 625 Brotherhood Way, San Francisco, will start its observance of the High Holy Days with services led by Rabbi Herbert Morris and Harold Wachter, Cantor.

Official end of the days will be sundown Monday for the members of the Reformed Jewish faith. Orthodox Jews will end their observance at sundown the following day.

Christian Science Group Will Hear S.F. Speaker

Glenn L. Morning of San Francisco, a Christian Science teacher, will speak to the members of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Pacifica, at 2 p.m. Saturday in the multi-purpose room of Oceana High School.

Morning is both a teacher and practitioner of Christian Science. His interest in his faith began while he was a student at Drake University in Iowa.

He joined the Ninth Church of Christ, Scientist, in San Francisco where he has served as first reader and moderator.

In 1955, he began devoting full time to religion and was officially accredited in the Christian Science healing ministry.

GLENN L. MORNING To Give Talk

Retreat Set In Mountains

The Bethlehem Lutheran Church, 533 Hickey Boulevard, Pacifica, will hold a retreat this Sunday at the Mount Cross Bible Camp in the Santa Cruz Mountains.

Families will leave Sunday morning and arrive for worship services at 11 p.m.

Services will be held as usual at the Pacifica church, with services at 9 and 11 Sunday morning and with Sunday school at 10 and 11 a.m.

Former D.C. Couple Ends Bible Study

A former Daly City couple have finished an eight-month course in Bible instruction and organization management at the Watchtower Bible School at Gilead in New York City.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Landers completed the course September 12.

Academic studies included verse-by-verse study of the Bible, a history of religion and the relation of world history to the Bible.

"One of the most impressive features of the entire program," said Landers, "was the close association we had with so many different nationalities and cultural backgrounds."

Lutherans to Screen Film

The Westlake Lutheran Church at 222 Avalon Drive, Daly City, will show film at 9:30 Sunday morning as part of its Sunday School Rally Day.

The film, "Africa and Switzerland," will be shown.

Confirmation classes for seventh, eighth and ninth grade students begins at 10 o'clock Saturday morning.

Students to Be Promoted

The Sunday Church School of Westside Baptist Church at 3370 Longview Drive, San Bruno, will hold its promotion day at 9:45 Sunday morning.

Supt. Alton Swedberg will present certificates of promotion to those going from one grade to another.

Pastor A. David Donnelly will award Bibles to a group of students. They are: Robin Weatherington, Randy Hanson, J. D. Dixon, Patrick Quinn, Daryne Navarro, and Richard Todd.

Bar Mitzvah To Be Noted

Temple Judea will hold a Bar Mitzvah service for a Daly City boy at 8:30 Friday night.

The boy, Jeffrey Joseph Storm, is in the eighth grade at Benjamin Franklin Junior High School and plans to attend Westmoor High School.
